

CALL FOR PAPERS

2019 2nd International Conference on Advanced Nanomaterials and Nanodevices

THE INTRODUCTION OF ICANN2019

Developments in nanomaterials and nanodevices are ever more prominent in driving the commercialisation of nanotechnology.

The international conference intends to bring eminent scientists, technologists and young researchers from several disciplines across the globe together to provide a common platform for discussing their achievements and newer directions of research. ICANN 2019 is focused on Advanced Nanomaterials and Nanodevices for Nano engineering and recent advances in nanotechnology, covering fields from theory and experiment to applications of nanostructured materials and nanodevices in technology. The scientific program will consist of keynote sessions, invited talks, oral and poster presentations.
